PING PONG ENTERS INTO CODE DEBATE.

Provisions For Public Libraries Made and Line of Demarkation For Cities Left at Five Thousand.

Columbus, O., Sept. 17.—The house committee considered a number of sections of the code bill.

When the committee was called to order Mr. Williams of Hamilton county invited the committee to go with him to Cincinnati Wednesday evening. He assured his associates that there were "big doins" and promised to show them the sights. The invitation was accepted and a dozen or so of the members will avail themselves of the opportunity to see the fall festival.

Three important matters were decided by the committee during the morning. These were the provision for the municipalities to make regulations to comply with the terms and conditions of bequests, the salvation of the Beal local option law and amendments to provide for various details of municipal government which had been omitted by the code makers.

Complaints had come from Springfield and other cities to the effect that if the Nash code were passed, public libraries, hospitals and parks would probably have to be forfeited by the cities because the terms under which the city had acquired them could not be complied with. The bill has been so amended in the committee that arrangements can be made to follow out every wish of public spirited citizens who leave property behind them for the benefit of the public.

It has been maintained by many since the introduction of the Nash code that the Beal law was repealed by the provisions of the bill.

The officers of the anti-saloon league, however, were on hand ever since the committee began work on the code and Judge Thomas presented their amendment. It simply provides that while council shall have power to regulate and control the sale of wine, ale and beer, etc., nothing contained in the act shall in any way affect the general laws on this subject. This serves the purpose it is thought of preserving the Dow law, the Beal law, the Cain law and other legislation upon the subject of the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Ping Pong Barred.
When the matter of shooting galleries, billiard and pool tables and other similar matters were brought up Mr. Cole of Hancock county wanted the committee to include the vicious game of ping pong in the bill. This was at first taken as a joke, but Mr. Cole threatened to make a speech on the subject and the amendment was accepted.

The senate spent a considerable portion of the forenoon session in discussing the line of demarkation between cities and villages going back to this section in the consideration of the code, and leaving the section relating to the judicial department until the line of demarkation was definitely fixed.

During the discussion of the amendments, Senator Chamberlain said that in view of the action taken by the house on Tuesday in favor of single-headed departments, he did not think that any one need to worry about a cumbersome form of government for the smaller cities. This was regarded as a frank admission that the governor's board plan is doomed. All amendments were voted down and the line remains at 5,000.

The senate, by the narrow margin of one vote, declared for the board system. It rejected the Judson amendment, calling for the election of a director of public service to take the place of the board of three members provided in the Nash code. A feature of the session was a political discussion, in which the merits of Mayor Tom Johnson of Cleveland and George B. Cox of Cincinnati were analyzed with much feeling.

In the senate Mr. Connell introduced his bill to remedy the defects in the jury laws in force in the counties of Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Franklin, Lucas, Montgomery and Mahoning. The bill merely makes general, with some minor changes, the law now in force in 82 counties of the state. Provision is made for four jury commissioners in each county, to serve not more than 10 days each year. The rules were suspended and the bill was read the second and third times. It was passed unanimously.

Mr. Harding of Marion, the majority leader in the senate, gave out a statement on the franchise question as follows: "Since the question of perpetual franchises was raised, there has been some disposition to fight shy of the great franchise problem, but a good deal of earnest discussion among senate Republicans has developed an emphatic sentiment in favor of facing the question now. I believe that the general assembly can do no better or greater work than to incorporate franchise legislation in the code. The proposed sections have not been formulated as yet, but I believe they will provide for the limitation of franchise grants to 21 or 25 years, with public interests carefully guarded in the granting and with definite provision for the granting of renewals."

GETTING FACTS.

Official Investigation Into Death of Nicholas Fish.

New York, Sept. 17.—Investigation into the facts surrounding the death of Nicholas Fish, the banker, which followed an altercation in a saloon Monday evening, is being pushed with great vigor with a view to having all possible light thrown upon the case at the inquest Friday.

According to Assistant District Attorney Garvin, Mrs. Margaret Pickels, a sister of Mrs. Casey, who is said to have been in the company of Mrs. Casey and Mrs. Phillips when Fish was struck by Sharkey, is located in Boston and arrangements are being made to have the woman in this city during the inquest. Mr. Garvin said that he believed her evidence would go a long way in clearing up the mystery. At the home of Nicholas Fish, it was said that Mrs. Fish had recovered from the first shock which her husband's untimely death caused her and was now resting quietly.

Juror Bock Testifies.

Detroit, Sept. 17.—The cross-examination of Juror George W. Bock, who, it is alleged, expressed strong opinions against Frank C. Andrews prior to the time he was drawn on the jury that convicted Andrews of misapplying and misappropriating funds of the wrecked City Savings bank of this city, was continued in recorder's court, where the motion for a new trial for Andrews is being heard by Judge Murphy. On the stand Bock denied positively that he was prejudiced against Andrews and denies the statements of former witnesses that he said he hoped he would be down on the Andrews jury so that he could send Andrews to prison. He declared he tried Andrews honestly and strictly according to the evidence. Later Bock admitted that he had discussed the case in his flagman's shanty with Witness McCarron in July. He insisted, however, that McCarron had broached the subject and that he replied that if Andrews was guilty he should be sent up.

Husband and Wife Injured.

Missoula, Mont., Sept. 17.—Ira Prossley and his wife, whose home ranch is near Superior, are at Parsons' hospital in this city, both near death and unable to tell who wounded them. Prossley's throat is cut from ear to ear and the woman is unconscious from a blow on the head that caused contusion of the skull. The man is conscious and says he was in bed when his throat was cut, but says he does not know who did the cutting. How Prossley has continued to live during the past 24 hours is a wonder. His windpipe is completely severed and esophagus cut through clear to the back and the head is about half severed. By pressing the chin down toward the chest in such a manner as to bring the severed windpipe together, the man can speak in a barely audible voice. He denies having any trouble with his wife.

Colored Baptists.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 17.—Fifteen hundred delegates from all parts of the United States were present at the Shiloh Baptist church, colored, in this city, when Rev. E. C. Morris of Helena, Ark., called the National Negro Baptist convention to order. In his opening address, Dr. Morris said: "Let each one remember that we came here to represent a struggling race which has everything in life to gain. Let the spirit of Christ, our great leader, be seen in every messenger. Let every man do his duty for God and his race while here."

Burke Quizzed.

St. Louis, Sept. 17.—The grand jury continued its inquiry into the boodling methods of certain municipal legislators. John J. Burke appeared again for further questioning. Burke is not a member of the present combine and was not a member of the combine which passed the lighting bill in the last house, but he is believed to know about the recent movements of Speaker Charles F. Kelly whom, above all other persons, the grand jury desire to find.

HENDERSON REFUSES

To Reconsider His Determination to Withdraw From Congress.

COMMENTS OF SECRETARY SHAW.

Member of the President's Cabinet Thinks The Speaker's Friends Should See That His Position Is Correctly Interpreted.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Secretary Shaw said in commenting further upon Speaker Henderson's declaration of a renomination, that while he refrained either from criticizing or justifying the speaker's course, he considered it of very great importance and due to General Henderson that his position be not misunderstood.

"Either many newspapers misunderstand General Henderson's position or I do. I understand him to stand pat on the tariff plank of the Iowa platform, which favors such revisions as changed conditions make advisable. In his address to the Republican voters of the Third Iowa district he says: 'While I have been against a general revision, I have never been opposed to making needed changes and I am not now.' Nor do I understand him to object to the anti-trust plank which is in a different section of the state platform, and which only declares against allowing the tariff to become a shelter for trusts. It goes no further than intimating that such a thing may occur. It does exist. Commenting on this plank in his address, the general says:

"It is a bold declaration that if modifications of the tariff are required to prevent monopoly from sheltering itself under the wings of protection then tariff shall be modified to prevent that condition."

"As I understand him he finds himself unable to agree with the interpretation placed upon this plank by many of his constituents and firm party friends. To what, if any, extent the Republicans of Iowa are advocating a removal of the tariff on trust made, or controlled goods as a remedial measure, I am unable to speak. I think General Henderson's friends ought to see to it that his position be correctly interpreted to the people, and that he be not placed in the false light of having declined to be a candidate for congress because opposed, to use the language of the Iowa platform, 'to such changes in the tariff from time to time, as become advisable through the progress of our industries and their changing relations to the commerce of the world.'"

SPEAKER HENDERSON

Refuses to Reconsider His Withdrawal From Congressional Race.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 17.—Speaker Henderson refuses to reconsider his withdrawal from the congressional race in the Third district. The following telegraphic reply was received in response to a request to reconsider his action by Messrs. Lafe Young and S. W. Rathbun of Des Moines: "Your joint telegram sincerely appreciated, but cannot reconsider, for, after an age spent in fighting for my country, state and district, I cannot acquiesce in administering free trade poison to cure the trust evil which I abhor."

Kansas City Platform Defeated.

Boston, Sept. 17.—The faction in the Massachusetts Democracy supporting the principles adopted by the national convention at Kansas City, and advocated by William J. Bryan and the element which is opposed to the Nebraskaan, and many of his doctrines, was admittedly at odds over the construction of a platform for presentation to the delegates of the state convention. So intense was the feeling manifested in committee that at one time it appeared as if a bitter struggle for the mastery would be fought out upon the floor of the convention. For nearly 10 hours the committee on resolutions debated the question, with the result that the Kansas City platform adherents, headed by George Fred Williams, was defeated 14 to 7.

Beresford in New York.

New York, Sept. 17.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford of the English navy has arrived here for a stay of three weeks. "I have followed the American navy and army maneuvers with much interest," said he. "I do not consider that America has wasted any money in powder that was burned in the sham war game. We are beginning to do that, too, now, and I think it is one of the best things for the training of the navy and army and to see just where the weak points in a country's war force lie."

ORIENTAL NEWS.

Many Modern Battles Are Smuggled Into Chinese Empire.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 17.—A letter received from a thoroughly trustworthy Chinese correspondent at Nanning, states that the rebellion is entirely at an end. General Ma, one of the ablest Chinese officers in the south was killed. Though the rebellion, so-called is at an end, a disquieting feature of the situation is that a large quantity of up-to-date rifles are still imported constantly. The Chinese complain that they are smuggled over the Tonkin frontier. The town of Tunghua Hsian, northwest of New Chwang, is reported to have been occupied by the brigand leader Liu Tang Esae and followers. Making this their headquarters, they are said to be busily looting all the districts around.

The Boxers are still active in Chengte and increasingly so. The local foreign officer reports the district to be in great disorder, several places having been attacked, others burned down and a number of Christians and others who resisted having been killed. The British and Foreign Bible society have had one colporteur killed in that district.

A gentleman who recently visited New Chwang says the Russians are making all preparations for their retirement from Manchuria at an early date and express the belief that they will do so. At the same time he admits that they are not likely to give up some of the places on which they have spent considerable sums, such as New Chwang and Talien Bay, nor to retire without some sort of equivalent for what they supposed they had acquired, nor even then to make an absolute relinquishment of their claims upon that country.

PRESIDENT GOMPERS

Predicts the Settlement of Strike by Agreement.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 17.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement, takes a hopeful view of the strike situation. The statement is as follows:

"At this time it is impossible to say exactly when the strike will terminate, but, after careful inquiry into the situation at the mines, I am convinced that the struggle will end by agreement. The wage earners and the general public are generously contributing to the aid of the miners. It is essential that this aid be extended and continued.

"If the manhood of the miners is to be maintained, they must at least have bread for their wives and little ones as well as for themselves. The declared attitude of the presidents of the anthracite railroads has not apparently changed. Despite this fact, I am fully convinced that the strike will end through agreement, with improved conditions for the miners, and the union maintained."

Opposition to Platform.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 17.—When the Republican state convention reassembled it was evident that there would be a fight on that part of the platform reported by the committee on platform endorsing President Roosevelt for a renomination. This opposition is understood to have had its origin in the recent action of the president in removing William Vaughan, retiring Republican state chairman, from the office of district attorney for north Alabama for alleged duty. There was also a feeling of opposition to the clause in the platform condemning child labor in cotton mills.

Exodus of Miners.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 17.—The exodus of anthracite mine workers continues from the Schuylkill region because the strikers have given up hope of an early settlement. Forty certified miners left for Wise county, Va., where they will be employed in the soft coal mines. A similar number left for the same point 10 days ago and in a few days a carload of driver boys will go to West Moreland county, this state. It is estimated that 2,000 mine workers have gone to the Irwin, Madison, Latrobe and Greensburg bituminous coal fields and upward of 7,000 are said to have secured employment in the Pittsburgh district.

Court of Appeals.

Milwaukee, Sept. 17.—At the session of the council of the Milwaukee diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, now holding its annual meeting here, resolutions were unanimously adopted calling for a court of appeals, to be elected at the regular yearly council meetings of the dioceses of the country. The power that has been vested heretofore in the bishop will be given to the court. The resolutions also call for the doing away with the national convention of the church held every three years, saying that "they are too cumbersome and do not do any good."

CASTRO IS ON THE RUN

Advance of Revolutionists in Venezuela Is Not Contested.

DISASTROUS RESULTS OF BATTLE.

After Fighting Four Days, the Government Forces Under General Garrido Are Put to Route by Opponents.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Sept. 17.—President Castro of Venezuela has retreated from Ocumare, before the advance of the revolutionists. The Venezuelan government's situation is critical.

Recent advices received from Venezuela confirm the dispatches from Willemstad of Friday, Sept. 12. The battle which, as then announced, began Sept. 11 in the vicinity of Tinaquillo, Venezuela, between about 4,000 revolutionists under the command of Generals Mendoza, Batalla and Rieza, and government forces of about the same strength led by the Venezuelan minister of war, General Garrido, resulted in the defeat of the government forces and not in a victory for the latter as announced in a dispatch from Torres Cardenas, secretary of President Castro, which set forth that General Mondezo's army had been annihilated Sept. 8 near Tinaquillo. The engagement of that date, as cabled from here Sept. 12, was only an advance guard fight of no importance. The real battle began Sept. 11 and lasted four days, after which General Garrido retreated on Valencia and eventually entered that city Sept. 15, with about 2,100 men, leaving the road free for the further advance on Caracas for the revolutionary army under Generals Mendoza, Riera and Battala. The only other government army in the field is the one which is under the personal command of President Castro, who, a few days ago, was at Ocumare, about 45 miles south of Caracas, and was sending out scouts looking for the advance guard of the army of General Matos, the revolutionary leader. The president later abandoned his position precipitately before the advance of the revolutionists, who occupied Ocumare.

The president retreated from Ocumare to Charayava and then to Guyaba, about four hours' march from Caracas.

According to report the president intends to move his army to a point near Valencia, join forces with the troops under General Garrido and attack the revolutionary army commanded by General Mendoza.

From all points are reported desertions of government soldiers to the ranks of the revolutionists and the general impression in Venezuela is that the last important incident of the revolution is approaching.

Pelletan Criticized.

Paris, Sept. 17.—The Figaro severely condemns the speech of Minister of Marine Pelletan, at Bizerta, Tunis, which, it says, in another mouth would be laughable and which in the mouth of the minister is intolerable. "As head of the navy," says the Figaro, "M. Pelletan's place is in the ministry of marine; not at banquets. If he is not conscious of this the president of the council should remind him of it. His speech is not a newspaper article; he has compromised the government and the country. Fortunately M. Delcasse is there to repair the mischief, but such must not become the foreign minister's daily occupation. It is not for this we have a minister of foreign affairs." The Gaulois asks wonderingly what opinion the powers will have of France when they see her minister of marine casting defiance at Europe.

Mineral Lands Seized.

San Francisco, Sept. 17.—State Mineralogist Aubrey makes the astonishing statement that during the last few months at least 250,000 acres of the public land in the mineralized section of California and largely mineralized in nature have been grabbed by eastern speculators through the employment of dummy locators. The speculators, he says, are not even timber men. They have seen that there is a great future for mining and there are untold millions of dollars awaiting the owners of these lands in the future. Mr. Aubrey therefore advocates having the public domain all withheld from timber entry in this state until there can be an inspection to determine how the lands should be properly classified.

A GRAND OLD DOCTRINE.

"The greatest good to the most people" is one of the basic principles upon which this great Government of ours is founded. Indeed the Constitution itself says that one of the five objects of the Federal compact was to "promote the public welfare." This sentiment finds its parallel in the grand old battle-cry of Democracy, "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none." The party whose leaders disregard this principle will sooner or later meet with deserved rebuke at the polls. Whatever may be the aims of the masses who constitute the Republican party, there is no disguising the fact that the leaders of that party have a record for disregarding that foundation principle of our Government, and that they are constantly enacting legislation which is for the good of the few at the expense of the many. The most glaring instance of their utter disregard for the rights and claims of the masses is the tariff as at present constituted. It is the worst piece of class legislation ever framed by the hand of man. It is a law that compels the consumer to pay a tribute to the manufacturer every time he buys a "protected" article. It is a law that makes the American citizen pay more for American-made articles than the manufacturers of those articles charge foreigners for the same goods. It is a law that has taken money out of the people's pockets and put it into the coffers of the trusts. It is a law that has built up and fostered these huge combinations of capital until they are getting now to be a serious menace to our Government, as is shown by the fact that even the President, under the fostering care of whose party they have grown to be such, and which they control, admits that it is such a serious evil that a Constitutional amendment is the only thing that will suffice to curb their rapacity. The tariff is a piece of class legislation."

TARIFF FOR REVENUE VS. FREE TRADE.

The Republican campaign managers realizing the precariousness of their position and their helplessness on the question of tariff and trusts, are trying to gain strength by misrepresenting the attitude of the Democratic party on the question of a tariff for revenue and the abolition of the tariff on trust-made articles that afford no revenue to the Government in any form. A story is going the rounds of the Republican press to the effect that the Democratic campaign book declares in unequivocal terms for free trade.

The Democratic campaign book declares for nothing of the kind. What it does demand is the placing on the free list of all trust-made articles that are manufactured in this country and sold at from 40 to 200 per cent. cheaper in foreign countries than they can be obtained at home. Every one of these trusts operating under the provisions of the Dingley tariff law, afford not one penny of revenue to the Government, but by virtue of that law they mulct the American consumer to the extent of hundreds of millions annually. The Democracy stands on the tariff and trust questions where it has always stood, namely, "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none."

 D. HECHINGER & CO.

At Bowling Green, the fire insurance agents, representing about sixty companies, have finally been forced to accept the rates made for that city by the Kentucky and Tennessee Board of Fire Underwriters. They made strenuous protests and sent committees to confer with the association, but to no avail. In some cases the rate is raised 100 per cent., and in most instances the rates have been greatly increased. The increase in rates is not confined to Bowling Green, but affects all of Kentucky.

MAINS' CIRCUS TO-MORROW.

This Big Show is "the Real Thing," and That's What the People Want to See Nowadays.

People nowadays want to see the real thing. It does not make the slightest difference what it is, so long as it is just what it is claimed to be. Of course, everybody remembers what the late P. T. Barnum said about the American people liking to be humbugged. If the old showman were alive to-day he would doubtless modify that statement. When he made it he was exploiting successfully the "Woolly horse," the "What Is It?" and similar attractions that could not find a place in the great Walter L. Main Shows to-day. A single imposture of that sort was enough for a whole show in the days when Barnum made his historic utterance. Even he lived long enough to regret the statement, and in his latter days he frequently said to his friends privately that the utterance was a sad mistake, but it was too late to recall it. Now it is the best remembered thing he ever said. But the reverse of that statement is true now. The old reliable, progressive showman knew it, and he governed himself accordingly. When a showman now says that his show is the oldest, largest and best show traveling, it must be so, or the public will know it and he will suffer a loss of patronage. That fact is being found out and followed. The past season has rounded out eighteen continuous years which Mr. Main has been the sole owner and manager of his institution. Mr. Main believes that amusement judiciously devised and properly presented, is one of the needs of our great social existence; that the scope of the circus among all ages, classes and conditions, but particularly among the youth of our land, is much broader than in any other branch of amusement, and that, for these reasons, the circus ought to attain the highest possible perfection both in its nature as a popular entertainer and as an important educational factor.

Walter L. Main's big circus and menagerie will show here to-morrow afternoon and night. Our Washington correspondent was at Cincinnati this week and witnessed the throng at the opening of the new Grand Opera House where "Ben Hur" was presented. Miss Amelie Rives, the noted authoress, was noted among those present. This lady is outspoken in favor of lynching, believing there would be no existence in the South without it. Our correspondent thinks this is the judgment of ninety-nine out of every hundred of the white people south of Mason and Dixon's line. You surely can have a handsome clock in your home, and you will have, if you will look in our show window and see our handsome line of clocks at low prices—all marked in plain figures and warranted perfect time-keepers. MURPHY, the Jeweler.

Miss McComas, the Cincinnati lady spoken of by the papers of that city as the sweetheart of the late Colorado multi-millionaire, W. S. Stratton, is the sister of Mr. William McComas, brother-in-law of Mr. White W. Forman, well-known in this county. Miss McComas is now a resident of Colorado, where she has mining interests with Mr. James J. Hooker, her brother-in-law, well-known in this city.

Ninety-Eight Per Cent.

There is a fascination about big profits to a business man. But the conservative and cautious trader prefers to have the lesser per cent. of interest and the larger per cent. of safety in his investments. There is no business man who would not consider it a sound proposition to invest in an enterprise in which absolute loss was impossible and which offered ninety-eight chances in a hundred of a rich profit. The statistics of cures effected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery show that ninety-eight per cent. of cases of "weak lungs" can be absolutely cured. Almost if not all forms of physical weakness may be traced to starvation. Starvation saps the strength. The body is just as much starved when the stomach cannot extract nutrition from the food it receives as when there is no food. "Weak lungs," bronchial affections, obstinate coughs, call for nourishment. "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies that nourishment in most condensed and assimilable form. It makes "weak lungs" strong by strengthening the stomach and organs of digestion which digest and distribute the food, and by increasing the supply of pure blood.
